

84th GASG Colloquium Call for Papers

Rising Stars in Gas Sensing: 4th Early Career Researchers Meeting

23rd March 2023
Chicheley Hall

Our re-arranged autumn 2022 colloquium will provide an opportunity for Early Career Researchers to give short talks (5-10 minutes, to be decided) or posters in the areas of gas analysis/volatile compound analysis and sensing technologies for gases, VOCs and particulate matter. Presentations can cover a broad spectrum with presenters from industry, academia, government, etc. And, as usual, a plenary lecture will be given by an invited guest. This is an excellent opportunity to hear about the latest research in this important and topical area.

Once again, we will be awarding prizes - £100 for the best talk and £100 for the best poster. In addition, the winners will be eligible for free attendance at the next GASG meeting.

The Early Career symposium will be a one-day Face-to-Face/online meeting, starting at 10:30 GMT (TBC) with talks commencing at 11.00 GMT. There will be ample opportunities for networking over lunch and talks will finish at 15:30 GMT (TBC), followed by the presentation of prizes.

Attendees will be able to view posters at specific times and discuss them with the presenters in breakout rooms. It is anticipated that there will be opportunities to have informal discussions regarding employment prospects in the gas detection and analysis area with companies and research groups active in the field - recruitment breakout rooms will be provided for this purpose (TBC).

Please contact Sam on admin@gasg.info for further information and see details below for meeting fees and deadlines.
